

COMPUTER SCIENCE AT STANFORD
THE IMPACT OF THE FIRST TEN YEARS

A symposium sponsored by the Computer Science Department of Stanford University
Co-sponsored by AFIPS History of Computing Committee

Ronald L. Mak

is hereby recognized as contributing to the formation and growth of computing-related activities at Stanford University during the early years of the Computer Science Department, and therefore deserves to be known as a

Stanford Computing Pioneer

Certified at Palo Alto, California, March 27, 1987

Nils J. Nilsson, Chairman
Department of Computer Science

John V. Levy
Symposium Chairman